

As an electrical engineer, Mr Gérard Constantin created his own company in 1987 and is owner of an electrical installation company with today 20 employees.

Mr Gérard Constantin is vice-president of AIE and member of the governing board of the Swiss Electrical contractors' association. He is responsible for national and international relations and most involved in the Swiss sectoral professional education as an expert in the masterships and vice-director of Swisskills (the organisation for Swiss professional championship).